Q&A:

The Dublin Deck was reported crowded with patrons on Friday night thoughts?

- From what I understand that it was raining, bar allowed patrons to come inside
- Crowding of any kind should not happen
- Taking them at their word, local enforcement, Suffolk police broke it up

Jones beach is limiting parking, when weather gets warmer and warmer will they find that there is no place to park?

- There should be orange cones in half of the spots, that is to keep at 50%
- Reopening will start slowly
- As more people come out, if they do it smart, the infection rate should be able to be controlled
- As long as that happens, you can keep reopening
- Next week is a function of what we do today

People are reporting that when they go for a test they get the 3rd degree, is that what should be happening?

- You get prioritized because what we want is the most likely people infected to get tested fastest
- We want to know where you were, what makes you think you were infected, getting that data is important

Are people being denied testing?

- It's not that we are at a capacity level, we have more than we are using
- But yes these is a prioritization
